May club events start off with the OTBs 7th, family cruise on the 14th, Brian will confirm whether the OTBs for the 21st will be cancelled. Club yachts racing on the 28/29th so plenty for everyone to get on the water and enjoy some boating.

Again, next meeting is the AGM 17th at Club Macquarie or Zoom

Race 8 started in light winds that continued to get even lighter. Eventually the race was abandoned when we all sat for well over 2 hours down near LMYC going nowhere.

Thoughts go out to Farrgo as OOD, sitting out in the middle of Kilaben bay hoping and wishing for someone to sail past.

This race will be reran at our next race event at the end of this month.

PSYCHOLOGICAL LONG COVID AND HOW NHTYA CAN HELP

We have heard how some people are suffering from long Covid where physical symptoms like fatigue, chest and even heart issues continue for a long period. However, the long-term psychological effects are still varied and unclear.

The idea of "going back to normal" is being replaced with "living with Covid" as daily infections and hospitalizations stay stubbornly high.

Whether we like it or not, the pandemic has changed us and our world. I have a two-year-old granddaughter who runs in the other direction every time she sees a cotton bud. The change in us, the prolonged isolation periods and our lowered resilience means that friendships and relationships have to be gently rebuilt. Previously appropriate robust discussions between family and friends now cause offense.

I read an article claiming that traumatic events accelerate trends. I found this happened in my own Blue Mountains community after the 2013 bushfires when 200 houses were lost. These accelerated trends can be positive and negative. My wife and I have ordered a new caravan. Kerry saying "If we are going to do this caravan travelling for the next 10 years, we need to start now." This is a positive change, but the more negative trends are ones around greater disconnection from others.

Kerry and I tell our friends that sailing our boat keeps us young. And it does. Physically it enhances our strength, flexibility and balance. But probably more importantly, it gives us social connection, friendship and community with our club. Probably like most, during the pre-trip preparation we ask ourselves "Is all this effort worth it?" But the conclusion is always "It was really worthwhile, helpful and healthy".

As people age, their world becomes smaller. Things become too much effort and the result for them is greater isolation and loss. I'm worried that for many in the community, "long psychological Covid" has accelerated this aging trend.

Each year Kerry and I mark up in our diaries the race series weekends and we decide which cruises we will attend. We take the attitude that something really significant needs to happen for us to knock out a planned sailing weekend. I do any repairs or maintenance on the boat or trailer soon after each event so the boat is always ready to go.

Don't underestimate how much of a precious contribution your presence and friendship makes to us all, particularly in this "living with Covid" period. I look forward to seeing you at our upcoming events.

Easter Myall Lake Cruise

We arrived at Violet Hill Friday morning with Phil and Kim around 9:15am and soon launched with the lake in minor flood. Only Time and Enchantress had arrived the previous day & we were soon motoring downstream.

We passed Boolambayte Creek where some club members use to go into in the past. For lunch we rafted up at Sunnyside camping area as it was too flooded to go to shore with Coconut Duck catching up to us. Passing Culter's Cottage and onto Mungo Brush for the night we found little sand due to flooded water and lots of campers. We tried Tamboy Jetty which had a large house boat on it, so ended up at River Mouth were the Myall River runs up to Buladelah. We anchored the 5 boats to form a "star" and enjoyed Happy Hour together on the water where we stayed the night.

Saturday, we motored for an hour toward Buladelah with the river in minor flood over some low-lying properties. We then turned around and headed to Nerong Jetty/boat ramp for lunch and a walk around the area for some of us. The water had gone down a bit and the jetty was only just out of the water.

On arrival Kev did a good deed and towed in a very grateful broken-down power boat. Happy Hour was at Legges Camp as they had beer on tap before heading to Freshwater for a nice camp fire.

Sunday morning, we motored to Sheep Island and were shown a nice spot where Nev and Judy use to swim. Passing Johnsons Beach, we headed to Shelly Beach for lunch and a swim. The water was still 900mm deep behind our yachts so no one went to shore.

Following the shore in an anti-clockwise direction we landed at Neranie and had the place to ourselves. Most of us were able to back right in to shore and we had a pleasant evening around a camp fire.

The following morning, we headed out for a "history walk" when we were approached by a Ranger who informed us the camping area was closed due to the toilets being out of action. We had to move on and so pulled up anchor a little earlier than intended. Following the Lake in an anti-clockwise direction some managed to get a sail up for a short time before heading in towards Newtons Wharf, where eels use to be processed.

At Lunch time, for something a bit different, we decided to raft up all five boats to Wanderer as a send-off to the diesel motor. We cruised at 2.8 knots toward Mcgraths Island, I'm sure it would have been an interesting sight. Garry Jumped in for a swim and held a rope behind his yacht which turned us starboard and my rudder could not compensate. We broke apart and were soon retrieving at Violet Hill.

The weather was great, although the flooded water levels affected access to some camping areas, we got to see more of the Myall Lakes than we usually would. Thanks for running the trip Phil and Kim, we all had a very enjoyable Easter long weekend.

John and Lisa Pateman

(Side note to minutes: Wanderer's "smokey motor"- very quiet and didn't let us down! 😊)

May Cruise Weekend

cruise weekend on the 14nd /15rd May starting at Styles Point.

Please contact Kev

ON SHORE CRUISE YENGO

FRI-SUN | 15-17 JULY | 2022

This will be a very different cruise exploring the geology, ecology and history of this precious land. Garry and Cathy are the cruise leaders who have a little experience exploring this precinct and will try to help you prepare for an adventurous cruise. The main activities will be 4X4 driving around Mt Yengo and short walks around some of the terrain. We will share some BBQ meals and play a few games. This is a locked area and bookings are made by Garry with NPWS. Fees will be based on the number of people attending as a share of the bookings and announced by the next club meeting. Most of the communal activities will be centred around Big Yango homestead so have a look at it here:

<https://www.nationalparks.nsw.gov.au/visit-a-park/parks/yengo-national-park>

Important issues to consider.

- It will be ccccold. I will probably mention this again later.
- Only off-road caravans can be taken into the precinct but can only be used 2km from the homestead
- Limited beds available. So bookings essential before the next meeting on 19 April 2022.
- All bookings through Garry by email garrychalmers@gmail.com
- Most accommodation will be shared rooms. A few of us will need to sleep on a bunk or fold out bed.
- After booking with Garry a deposit of $50 per couple required to reserve your place. Use code OS.
- Did I mention it will be cold?
- This is a very important location for indigenous Australians and we will attempt to explore respectfully. I often recommend consulting your family if you are of indigenous heritage.
- Here is a good resource to learn a little about the area before we enter.
<https://hunterlivinghistories.com/2017/05/15/wollombi/>
- Cruise starts at Wollombi on Friday (time to be determined) for a 2.5 hour guided tour into Yengo or late arrivals will be given specific directions and gate code.
